

Gallery Facts to Share with Students:

- Police first used Harley-Davidson motorcycles more than 100 years ago, in 1908
- Most police use was for traffic enforcement (catching speeders, writing traffic tickets, etc.) and not for pursuing criminals
- Look at the police vehicle, the adjacent case with accessories, and show image of modern police bike. Ask children to name the accessories you point to, and discuss what these were used for/how related to the different jobs police officers need to do.
 - Radio Receiver
 - Foot-Operated Siren
 - First Aid kit
 - Billy Club
 - Flashlight
 - Tire Pump
 - Fire Extinguisher
 - Speedometer with hand lock for marking speeders (on 1936 bike). The officer got up to the same pace as the lawbreaker and then set the lock to register the speed (explain that this was before radar guns)